

Application for JBS Membership

General Instructions

Applicants are requested to fill out all applicable spaces and complete the requested information on the application form. Student Membership is available with a proof of student status. There is an annual fee that all members are required to pay, and membership applications are not complete until the application is processed and the payment is received by the Society.

Membership Qualifications

The categories of membership include Full Members, Student Members, and Group Members. Full Membership in the JBS is open to individuals with technical knowledge and/or experience in biochemistry, who will pay the annual membership fee. Students at a university or comparable school who are studying biochemistry or a course related to biochemistry may be registered as student members. Students must attach a proof of student status to qualify for a reduced rate. There is also group members who will pay the annual membership fee. The Members in any categories must agree with the objectives of the Society and pay the specified membership fee annually.

Subscription to the Japanese journal “Seikagaku”

Membership includes an annual subscription to the Japanese journal “Seikagaku” (written in Japanese), which will be sent gratis to all members. The members will also receive a special issue of programs for the Annual Meeting of JBS. In the case of this year, please refer to the following site.
