

Dear PhD students and postdoctoral researchers,

The deadline for the early bird registration and travel grants is extended until the 28th of August.

Join us for the the 1st FEBS-IUBMB-ENABLE International Molecular Biosciences PhD and Postdoc Conference entitled “The perfect tandem: How technology expands the frontiers of biomedicine”, which will take place in Seville (Spain) on 16-18 November 2022. Early bird registration fee is 135€ and it includes the gala dinner!

All participants need to submit an abstract for poster presentation or a short talk to REGISTER. To apply for a travel grant (we still have quite a few left!), you also need your CV and a motivation letter. Remember you have until the 28th of August!

Don't miss out the opportunity to join us for three days of FEBS-IUBMB-ENABLE 2022 and participate in:

- Scientific symposium (16 & 17 November):
 - Scientific talks from 8 renowned scientists
 - Short talks and posters presentations by participants
 - Gala dinner with keynote speakers on Thursday 17 November
- Career day (18 November):
 - Participate in workshops and career chats
 - Visit our job fair to learn more about career opportunities
- Networking & Outreach activities:
 - Join our pub talks to bring your science closer to society
 - Get to know other young scientists by joining our various networking activities
