

Dear friends,

On December 8, at 6 PM (CET) the young researchers of the FEBS Junior Sections organized their twelfth online talk of 2022. This one is coordinated by ÖGMBT/YLSA, the Junior Sections of the Austrian Society ÖGMBT.

It will be a career talk from Dr. Botond Cseh, Brand and Customer Manager in Oncology, Vienna, titled “Graduating from Academia: How to leave Alcatraz and come back only as a tourist. The 5-steps to success”.

Summary:

Botond Cseh, PhD, did his postdoctoral research in the Max F. Perutz Laboratories, in Vienna, where he worked on the protein-protein complexes in the RAF/MEK/ERK pathway and RAF's role in vascular permeability and cytoskeletal rearrangements at endothelial cell-cell junctions. During his postdoc he started several initiatives to improve the careers of early-stage researchers, and he also became acquainted with the Open Innovation methods in science. After his postdoc he left academia for the private sector, where he worked as a consultant and on a number of user-driven projects. He is currently a Brand and Customer Manager in Oncology for the pharmaceutical industry.

Please join us at the talk and share this information with your peers. If you want to find out more about the FEBS Junior Sections, visit this page:
