

Dear colleagues,

The 32nd FAOBMB (Federation of Asian and Oceanian Biochemists and Molecular Biologists) Conference will be held in Hong Kong from August 10 to 13, 2026. Our conference website is at <http://www.faobmb2026.org>. Additional information about the conference can be found in the attached document.

Breaking new grounds on disease mechanism in the post-pandemic era is the theme of the conference.

Biochemistry and molecular biology are one of most influential parts of modern science and technology. Advances in biochemistry and molecular biology in the past decades have not only changed our understanding of how life works, but also revolutionized how diseases are diagnosed, prevented and treated. This is the first FAOBMB Conference to be held in Hong Kong since 1995. Our goals are to bring together the international leaders and the local researchers in the field. The conference provides a unique opportunity to Hong Kong-based scientists. They will be exposed to cutting-edge thoughts and state-of-the-art technologies in biochemistry and molecular biology, leading to a better understanding of the breadth and complexity of this discipline as well as its applications in medicine, agriculture and other areas.

We strongly encourage colleagues and postgraduate students to register for the meeting. The early-bird registration has ended on May 15, 2026. To encourage participation, we have now extended the deadline for early-bird registration to May 31, 2026. The full and regular early-bird registration fee will be HK$ 3500 (US$ 500 or RMB 3200). Registration fee for postgraduate students, postdoctoral fellows and other trainees certified by a faculty member will be HK$ 2500 (US$ 350 or RMB 2300).

We have already waived the registration for a group of applicants. Registration fee waiver is still available to a limited number of applicants. Please do apply with your abstract as soon as possible.

Effective on June 1, 2026, late registration fee for regular and trainee participants will be HK$ 5500 (US$ 750 or RMB 5000).

Each of the concurrent sessions will have at least two talks selected from abstracts submitted by May 31, 2026. We will also give out 10 oral and 10 poster presentation awards of HK$ 2000 and HK$ 1000, respectively to trainees. We provide good opportunities for our trainees to present their work in the meeting and to compete for presentation awards.

With your active participation, we are looking forward to a very successful FAOBMB meeting in August.

Best regards,

Dong-Yan Jin
